Confidential

Dear Governor Palin,

The National Marine Fisheries has apparently just received a study which indicates the Cook Inlet belugas is probably threatened with extinction. It is likely they may announce a listing status under the Endangered Species Act soon as a result. Fish and Game asked for a six month extension, which would postpone such a determination. It is not clear that an extension would be granted. If they are listed as endangered it will impact all sorts of activities in Cook Inlet. This is not yet public information and if the extension is granted it will remain unknown for a while. Talis

Governor,

Below are the contact phone numbers for the ETS employee widows. There is no expectation for you to call, so the option is completely yours. The numbers below are in case you do have time to make these condolence calls.

Sandy Middleton: Privileged (Ed Middleton's sister-in-law and wife of victim Thomas Middleton of Anchorage)
Terri Seward: Privileged (wife of victim Michael Seward of Palmer)
Tracey O'Donnell: Privileged (wife of victim Joseph O'Donnell of Girdwood)

I didn't include pilot Benoit Pin's family as this should be handled through his employer, Era Helicopters. If you'd like that as well I can get that phone #.

I've spoken with Annette and while there was some confusion over who was communicating directly with the families yesterday, today that has been resolved. All families have either been contacted or attempted to be contacted by the Department of Administration.

Their single point of contact with the State is Carol Beecher, Assistant to Kreitzer, cell Privilege. This has been communicated to the families. She is working all issues relating to insurance, benefits packets, likely counseling...etc.

Dear Governor Palin,

As a retired military member and the immediate supervisor of those men who gave their lives in support of the Statewide Alaska Land Mobile Radio (ALMR) project I am asking that you as our governor consider flying the Flag of our country and our home state at half-staff one day as a tribute to these men and their families. I also would ask for your support in permitting the construction of a flag pole out in front of our facility in memory of these men who were dedicated to the mission of the ALMR project.

Your consideration is greatly appreciated in this matter.

Kris...

Tara Jollie and I talked this afternoon about Bridge Signing and the "event" that the Governor wants to have in conjunction with it.

In order to get the ball rolling, we need to figure out:

1) DATE. (or approximate time frame). Mindy Rowland suggested July, but the Governor replied in an email: sooner rather than later. So I'm presuming this means, before her baby boy arrives.

2) WHAT DOES THE GOVERNOR HAVE IN MIND?

-Does she want to do an event honoring Native women, sort of a positive response to last week's talk radio controversy.

-Or is she thinking that this is the place to launch her efforts to redesign the state seal so it reflects Native culture? Or, is it both?

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

3) Is there some significance to Nenana as her choice? Privileged or Personal Material Redacted
Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Just some thoughts here to get the ball rolling. We should get Melissa Stepovich in the loop to help with the planning. Tara suggested that Ivy Frye coordinate with Janet Mason on the schedule.

Thanks,

Rhonda

I'm sure this was forwarded to you today but just in case, here is the official letter from Lyda asking you to include HB364 and HB301 into the SS.

Joslin is putting together a letter going out from her group challenging Lyda to call her own special session if this issue is this important to her. They're working through the text of the letter within her board.

Spoke with Jim Minnery and he's on the fence, but also intrigued with the idea of Lyda doing her own. Jeff Turner is courting his support to join her. He says he knows Lyda is playing games and messed this up, but would like to see Parental Consent included as he believes it has the votes.

Eddie was hardcore today that Lyda is trying to appease voters by passing this buck to the Governor...saying that there are no "do-overs" or "mulligans" on votes.

I'm putting together some notes I hope will be helpful but won't hit you with those tonight.

Cars interfere and so does the small gravel road aswell. Building a football field for this school would be the greatest thing to happen for us. It would really great if you let us build a field.

Dear Governor Palin,

I just learned that our attorney Tina Otto (who was our Mat Maid attorney) is leaving to become a Magistrate. I talked to her and she said it was not because of the Mat Maid case that she is leaving. However, she noted that apparently Andrew Halcro has learned of her new job and put it on his blog. This time, however, he has not added the commentary that he had before. He is not claiming she is leaving because of Mat Maid. This time he is just reporting it.
